Crazy Cobra's Day Out
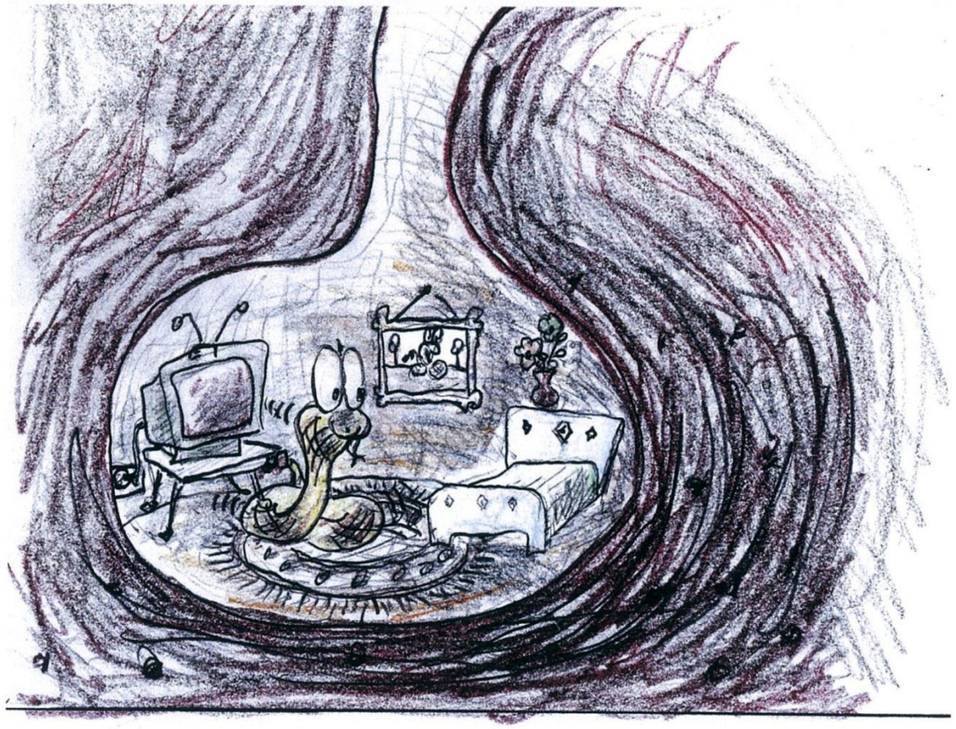
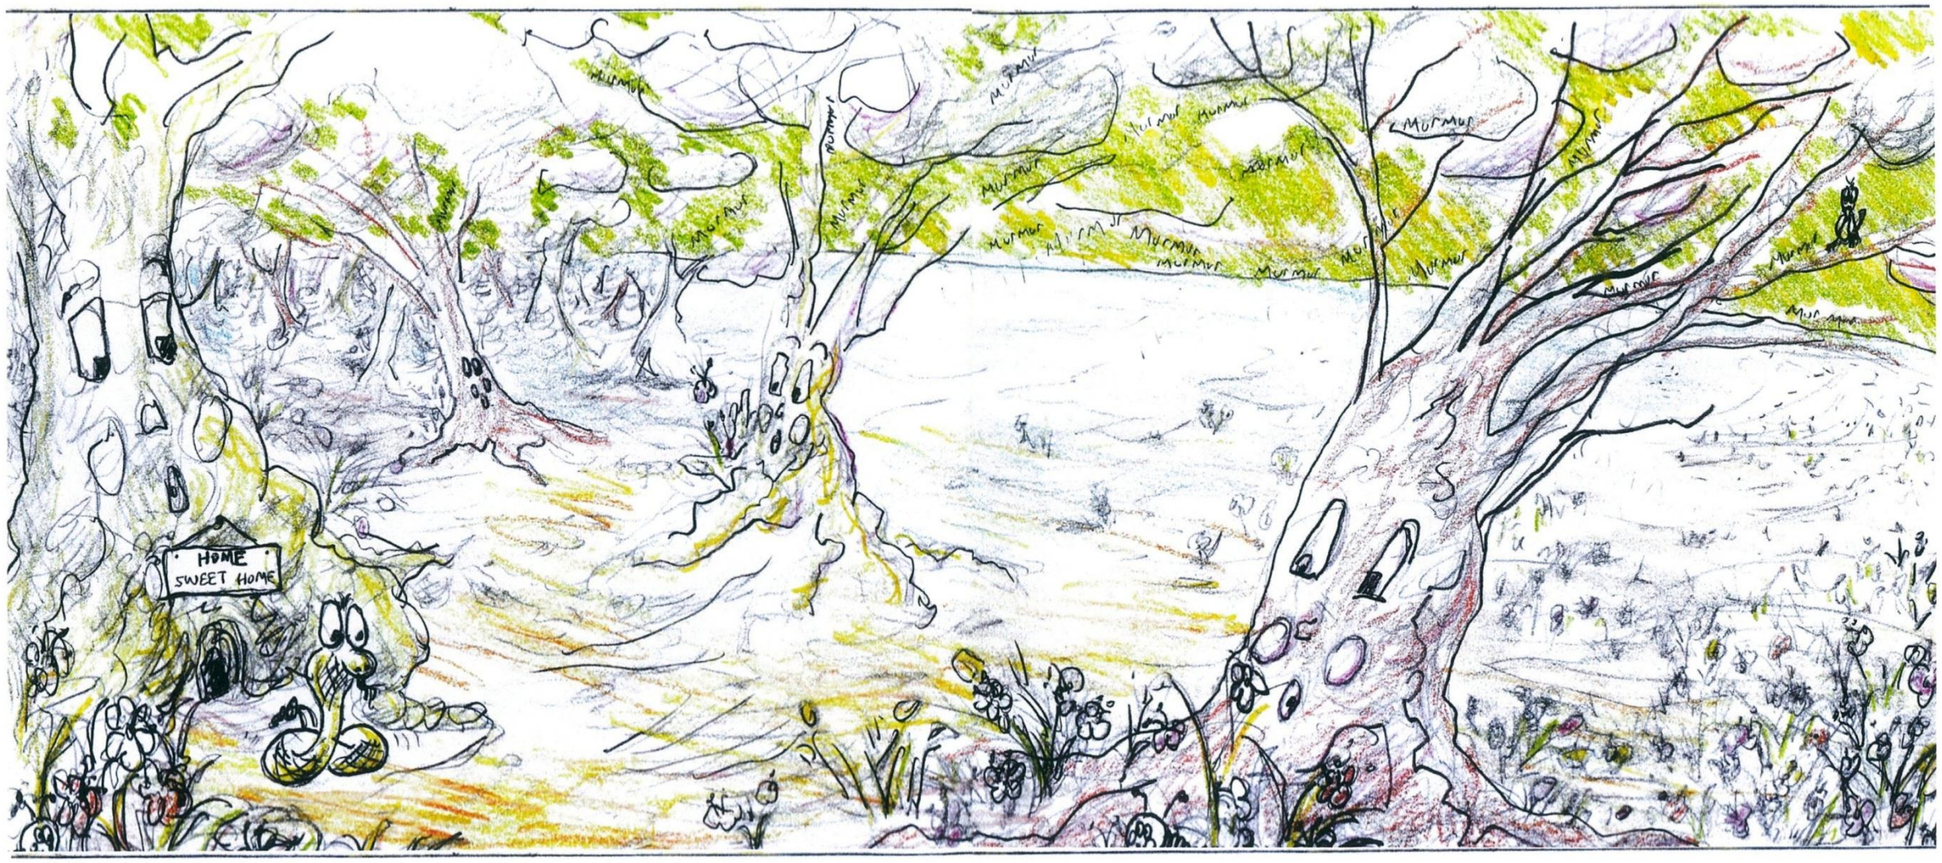
by Andrew Davis

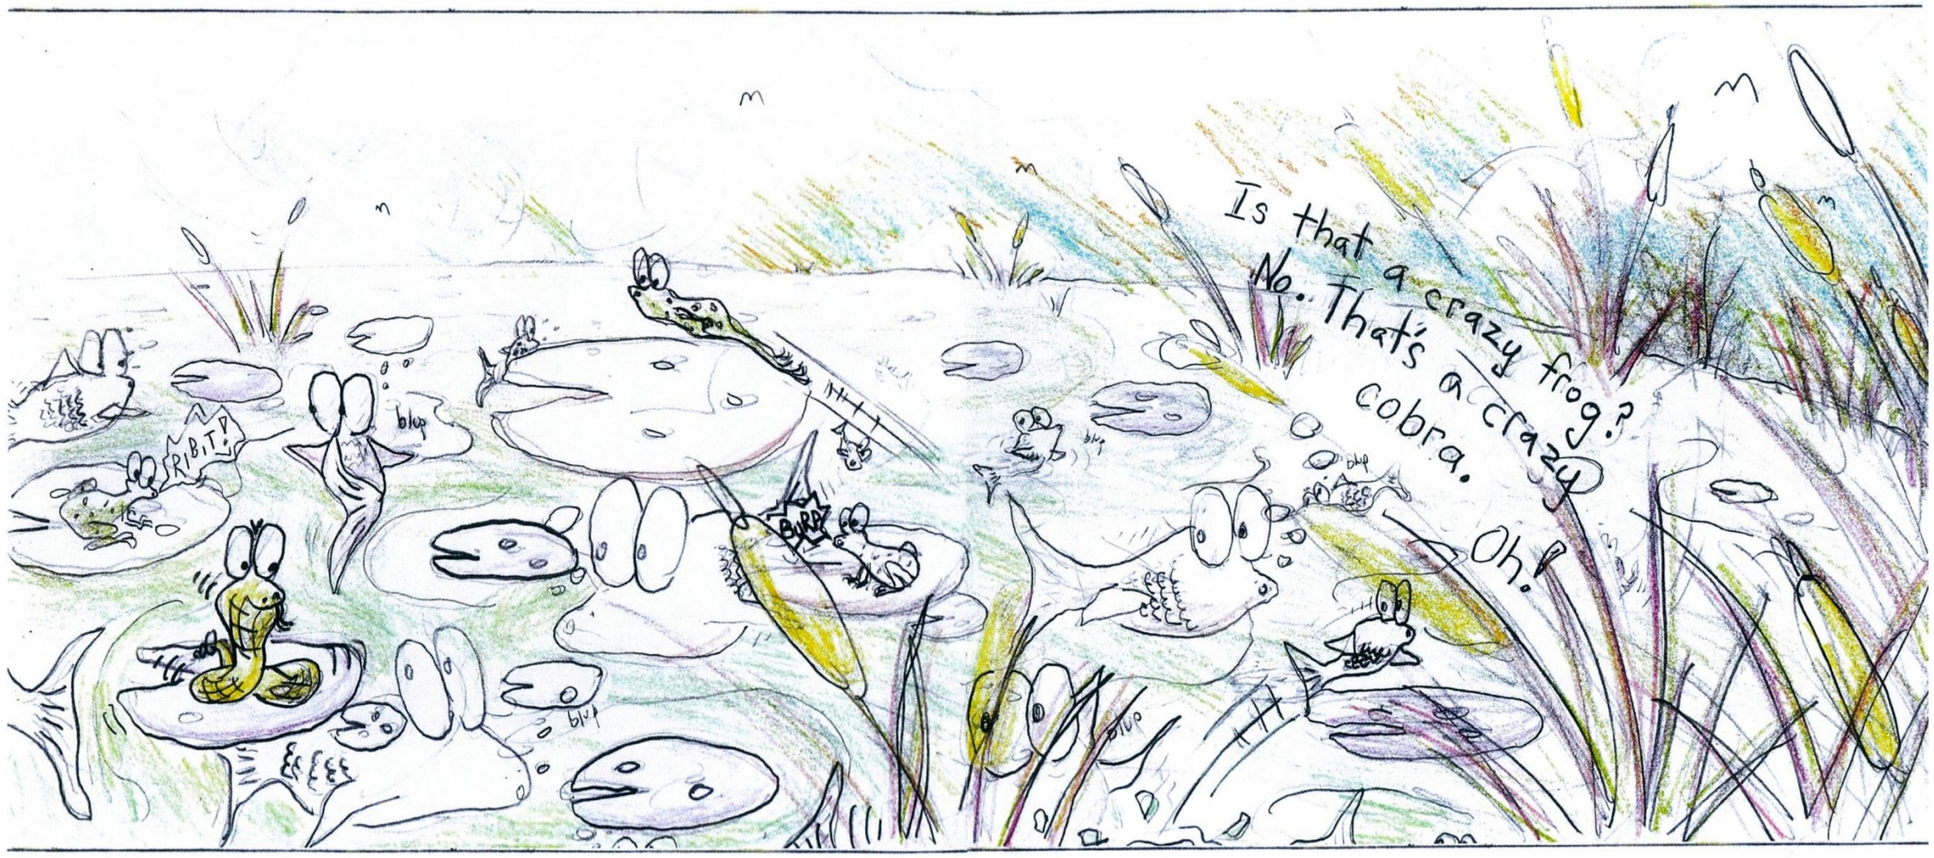
There once was a crazy cobra who lived under a tree in a quiet forest.



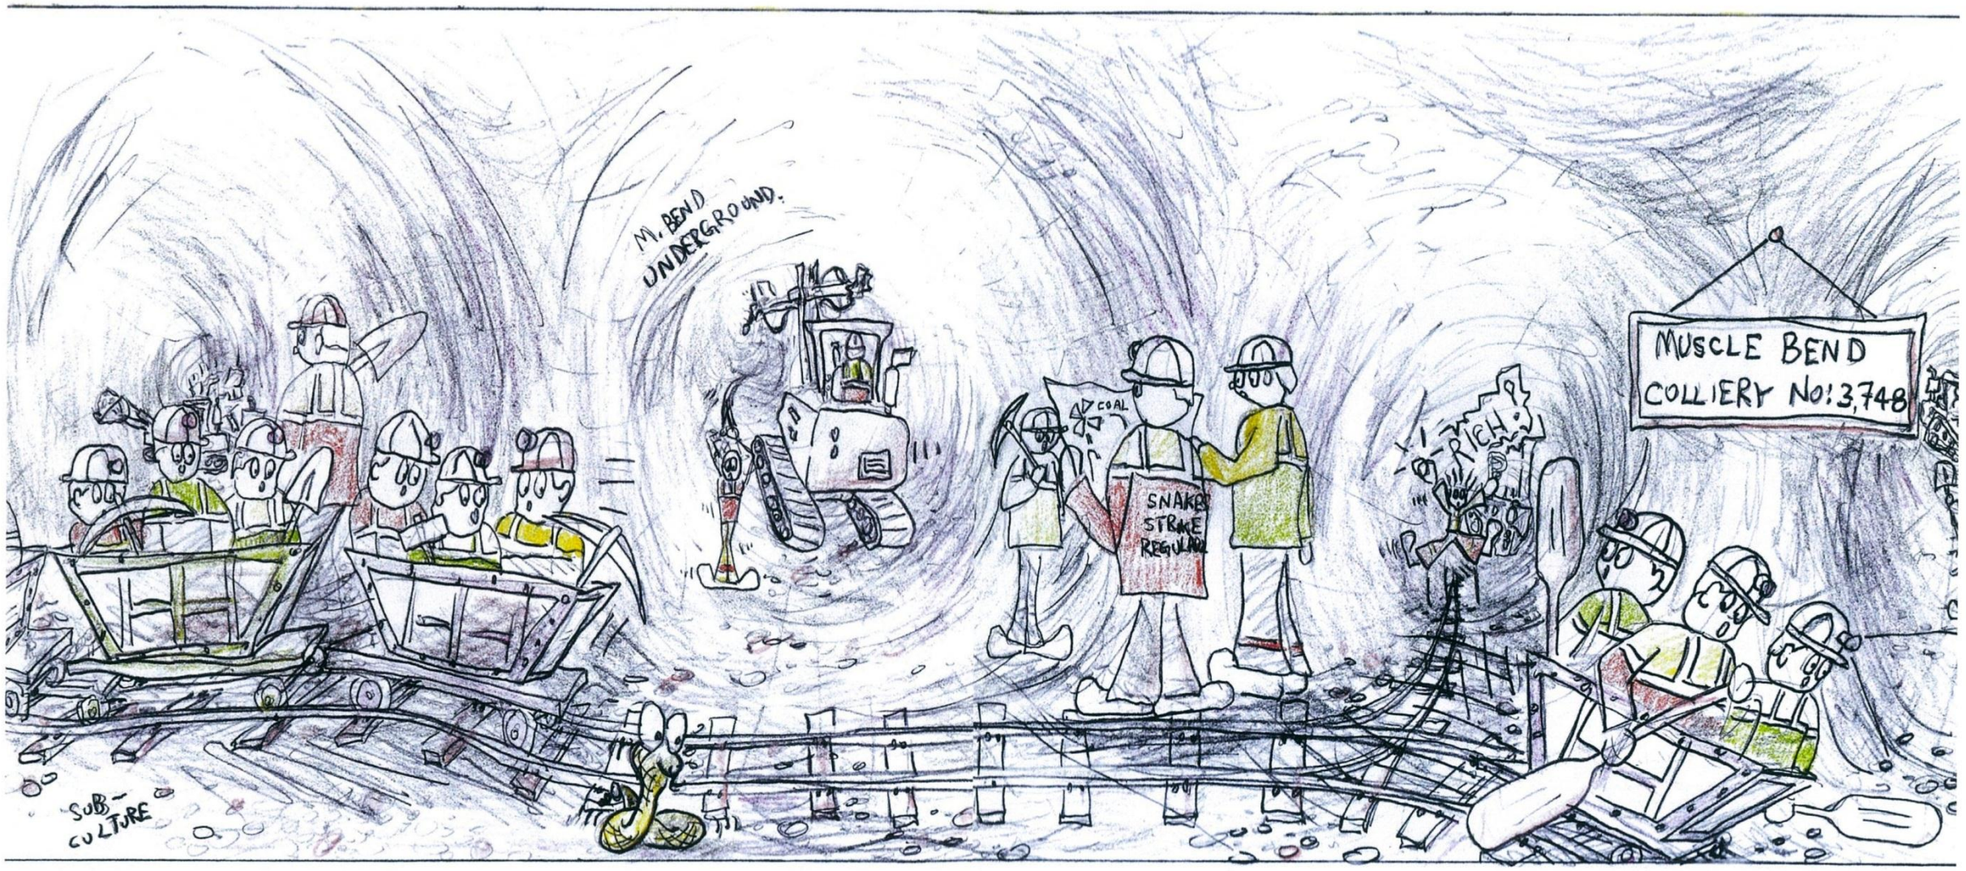
One morning, he set off for a big day out.



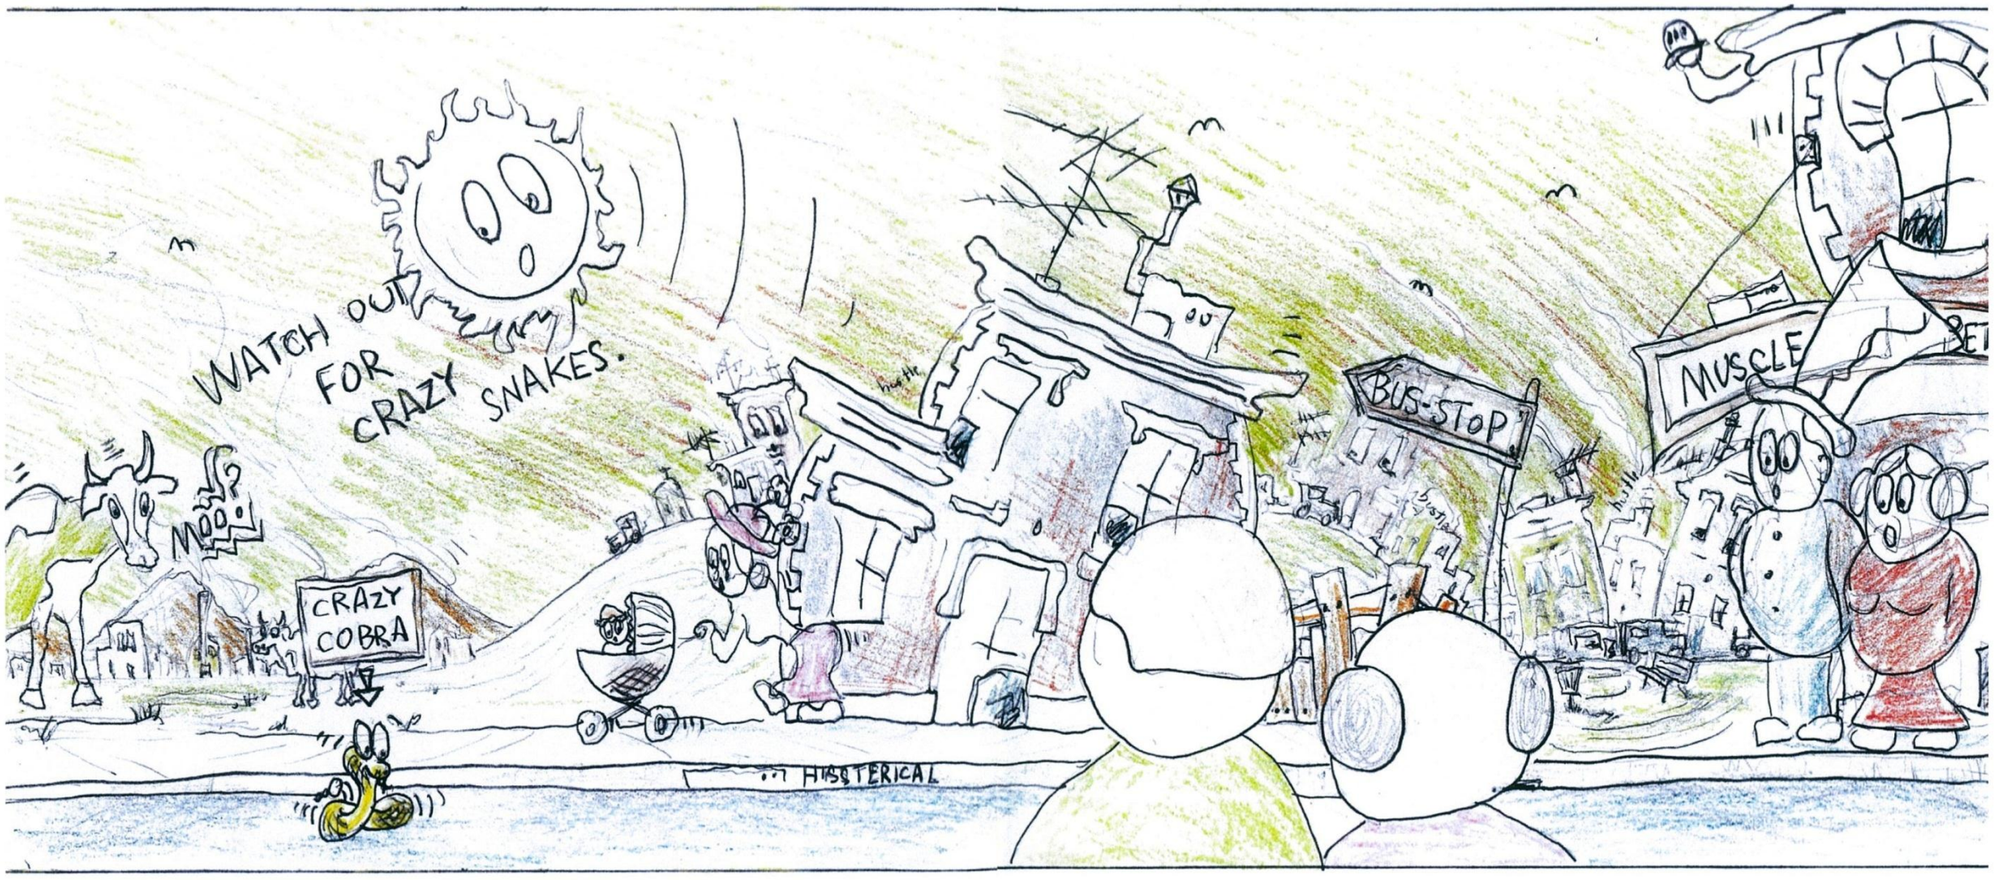
He slithered through the woods,



past the pond,



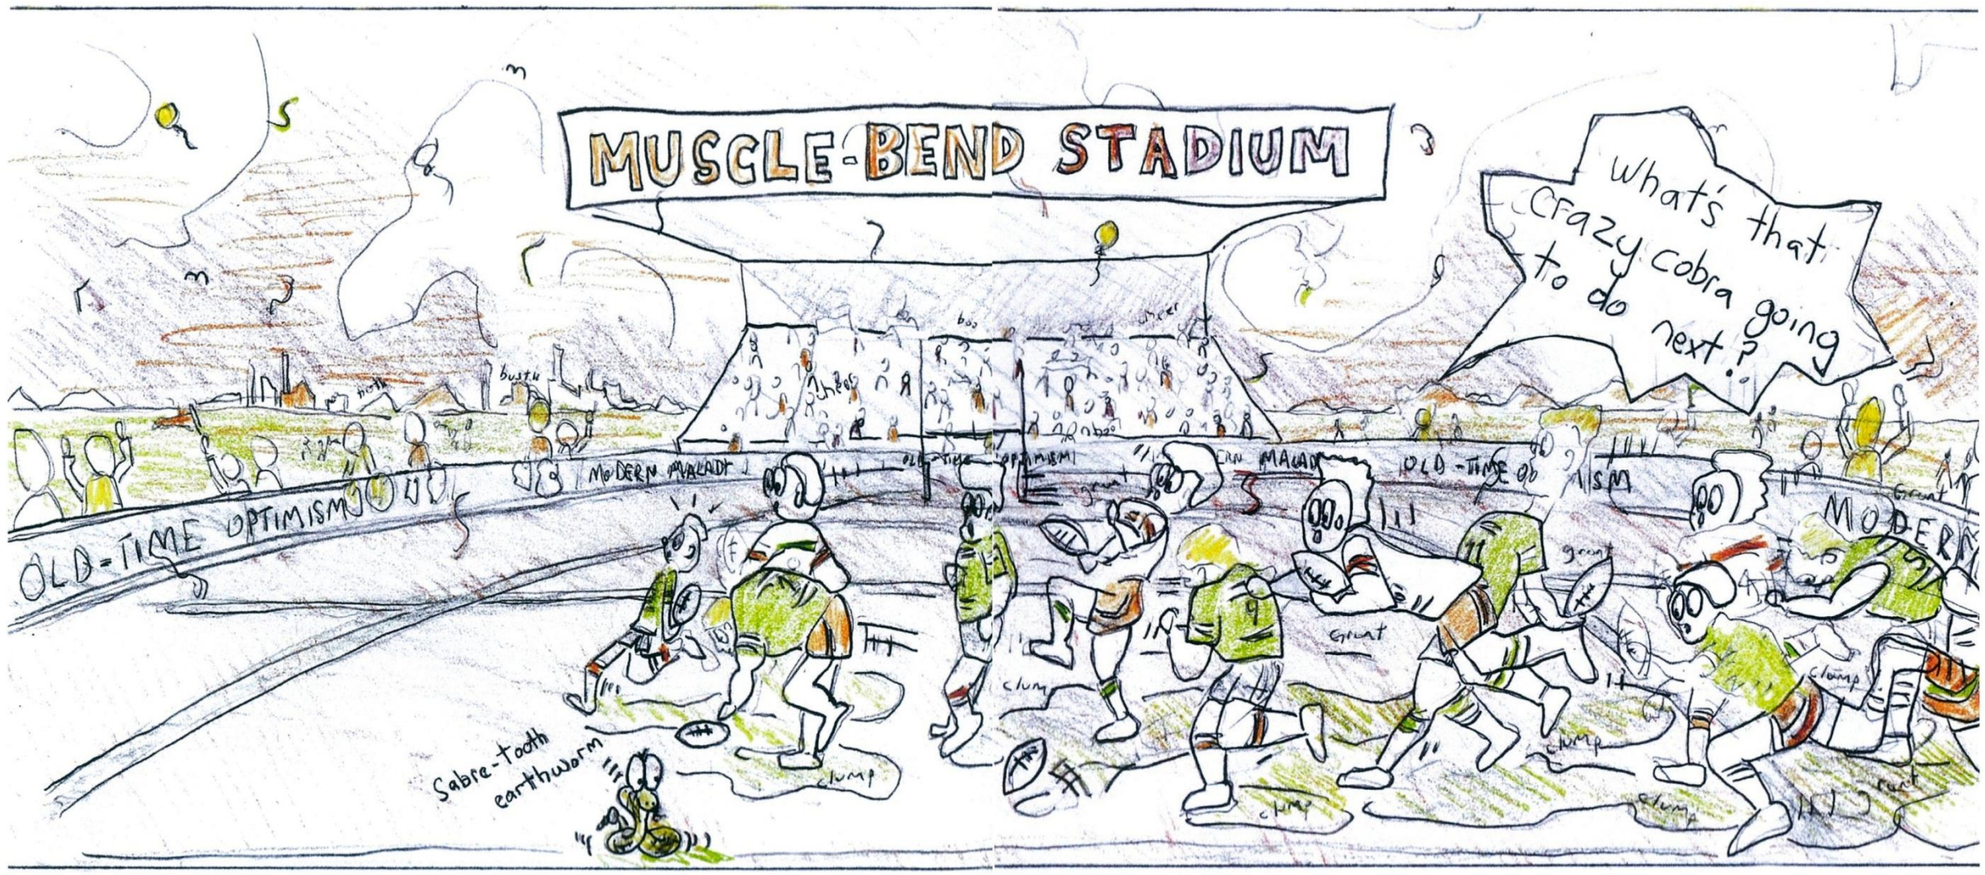
through the mine,



past the bus-stop,

past the bank,

through the church,



across the football field,

down the long tunnel,

Itch Splutch Blee ATCHOOOOOH!!
Blat Rgblee

what a very strange crazy cobra.

and over to the clinic for extremely nervous snakes.

It's OK.
You can come in;
we're all crazy cobras here.
EXIT
JOIN A SUPPORT GROUP TODAY TOILETS ARE YOU A CRAZY COBRA?
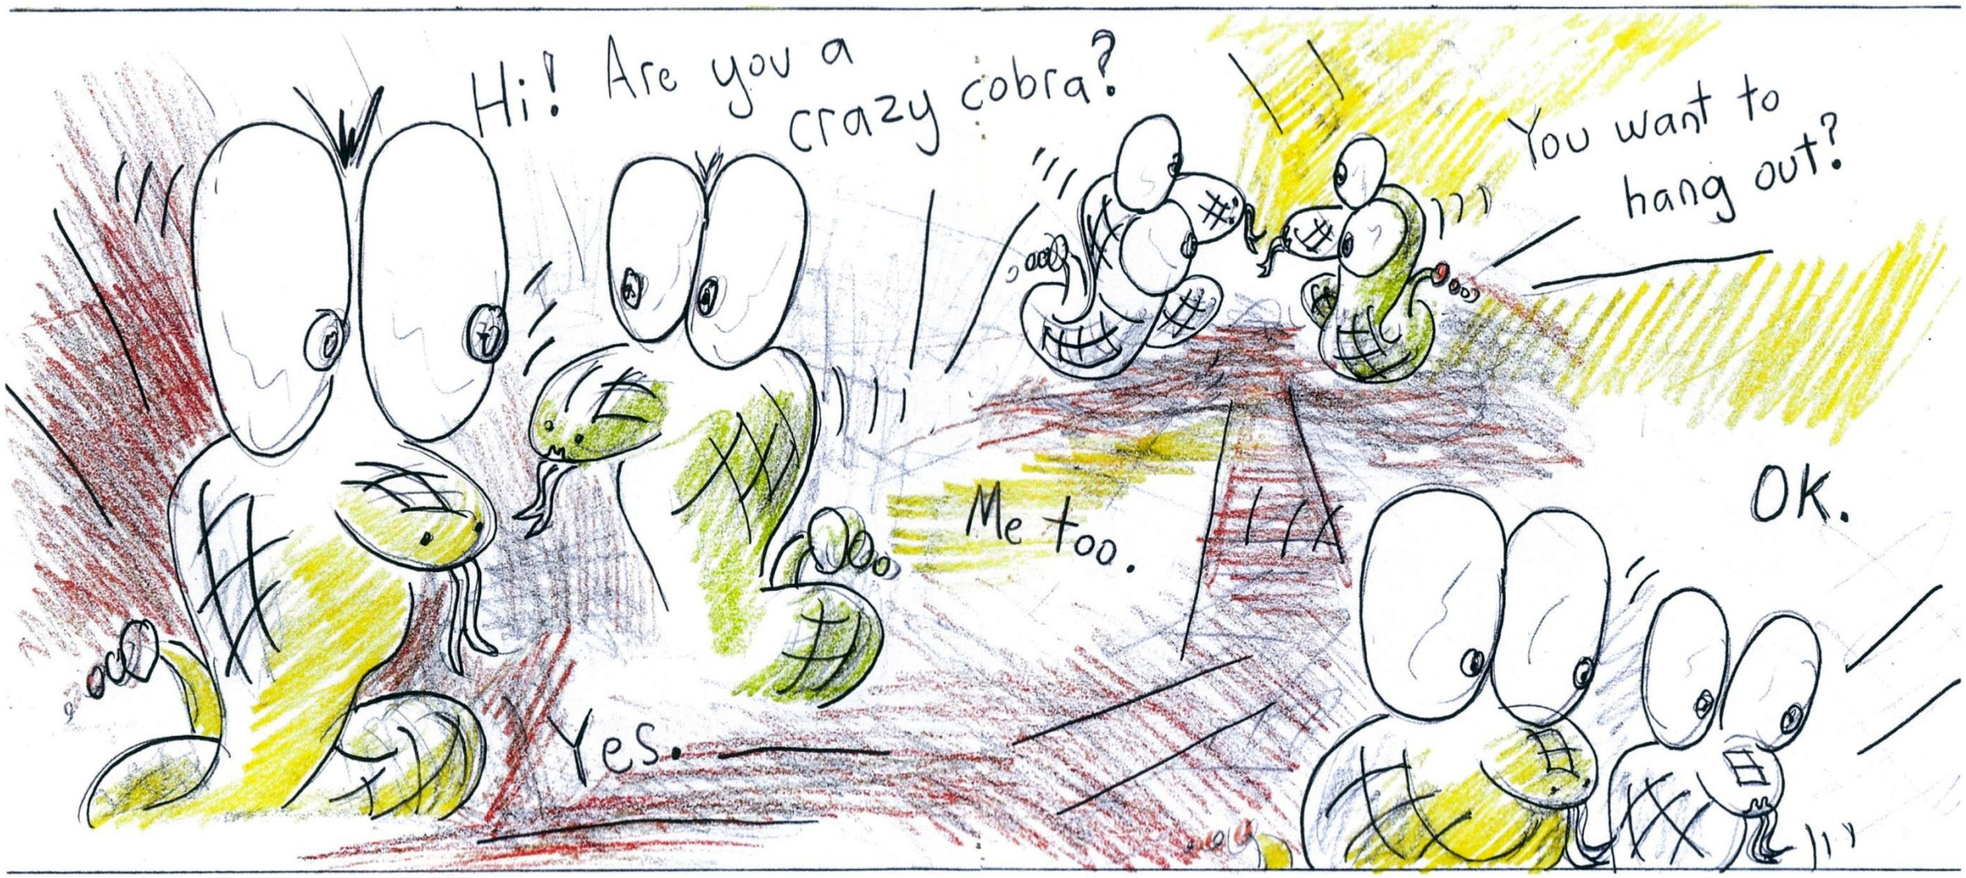
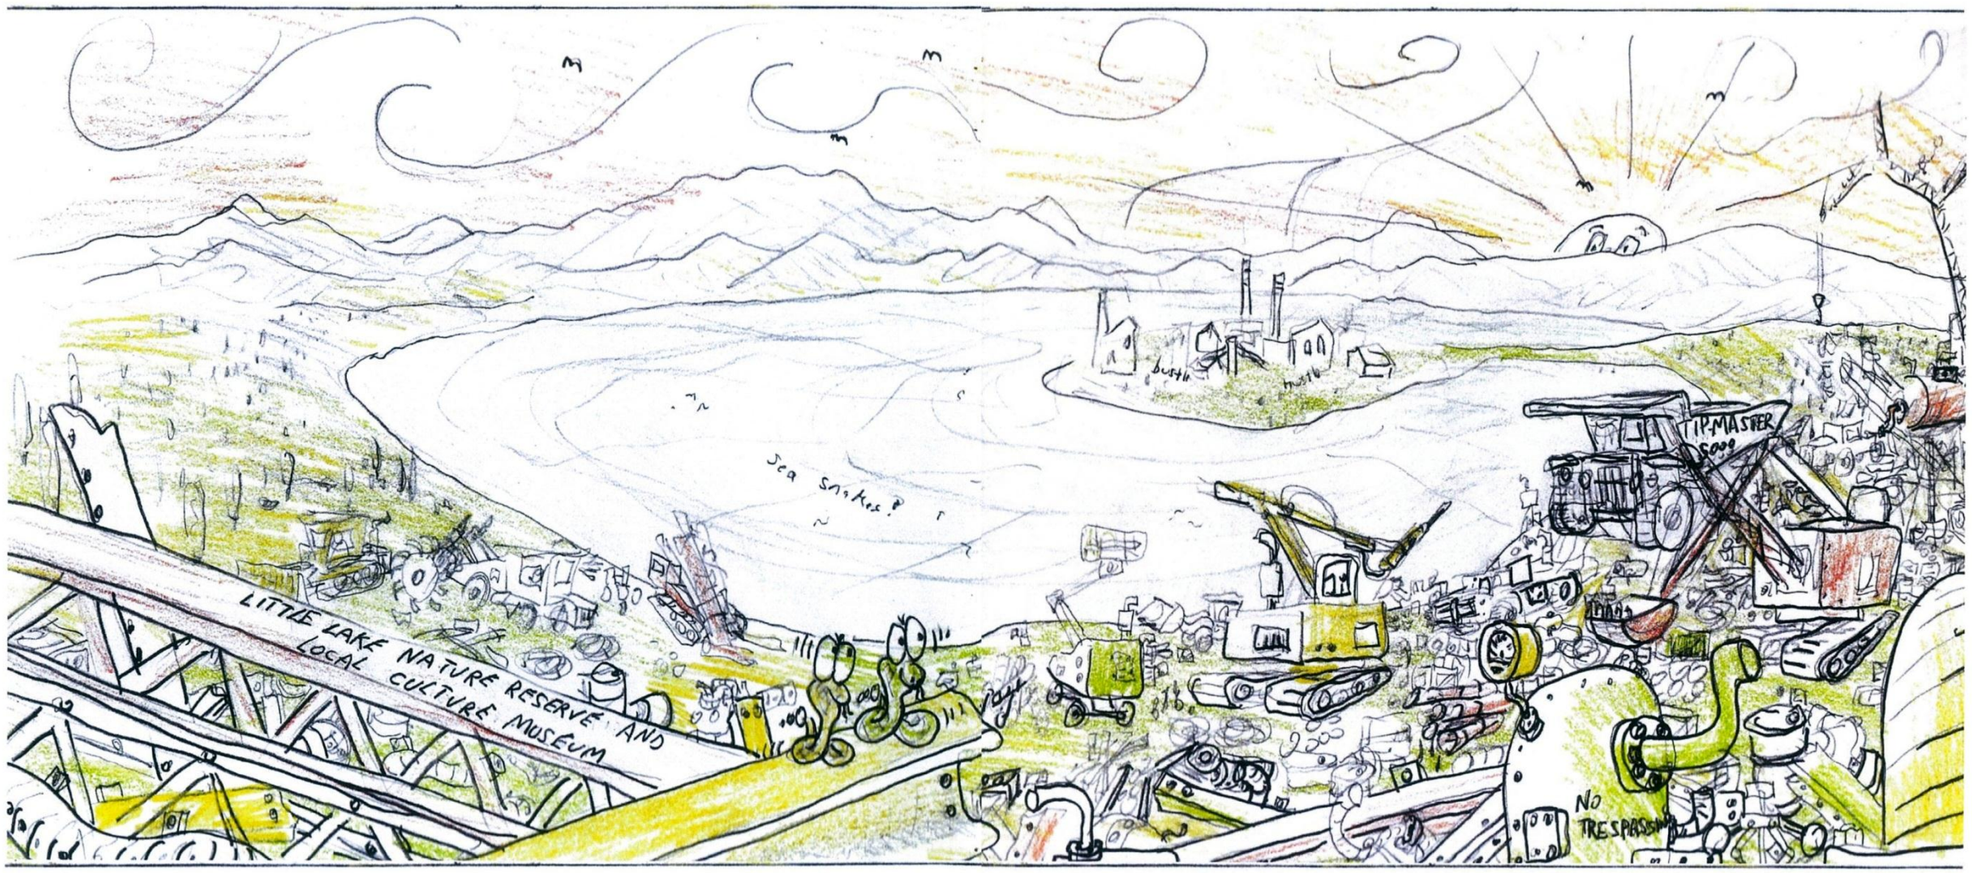
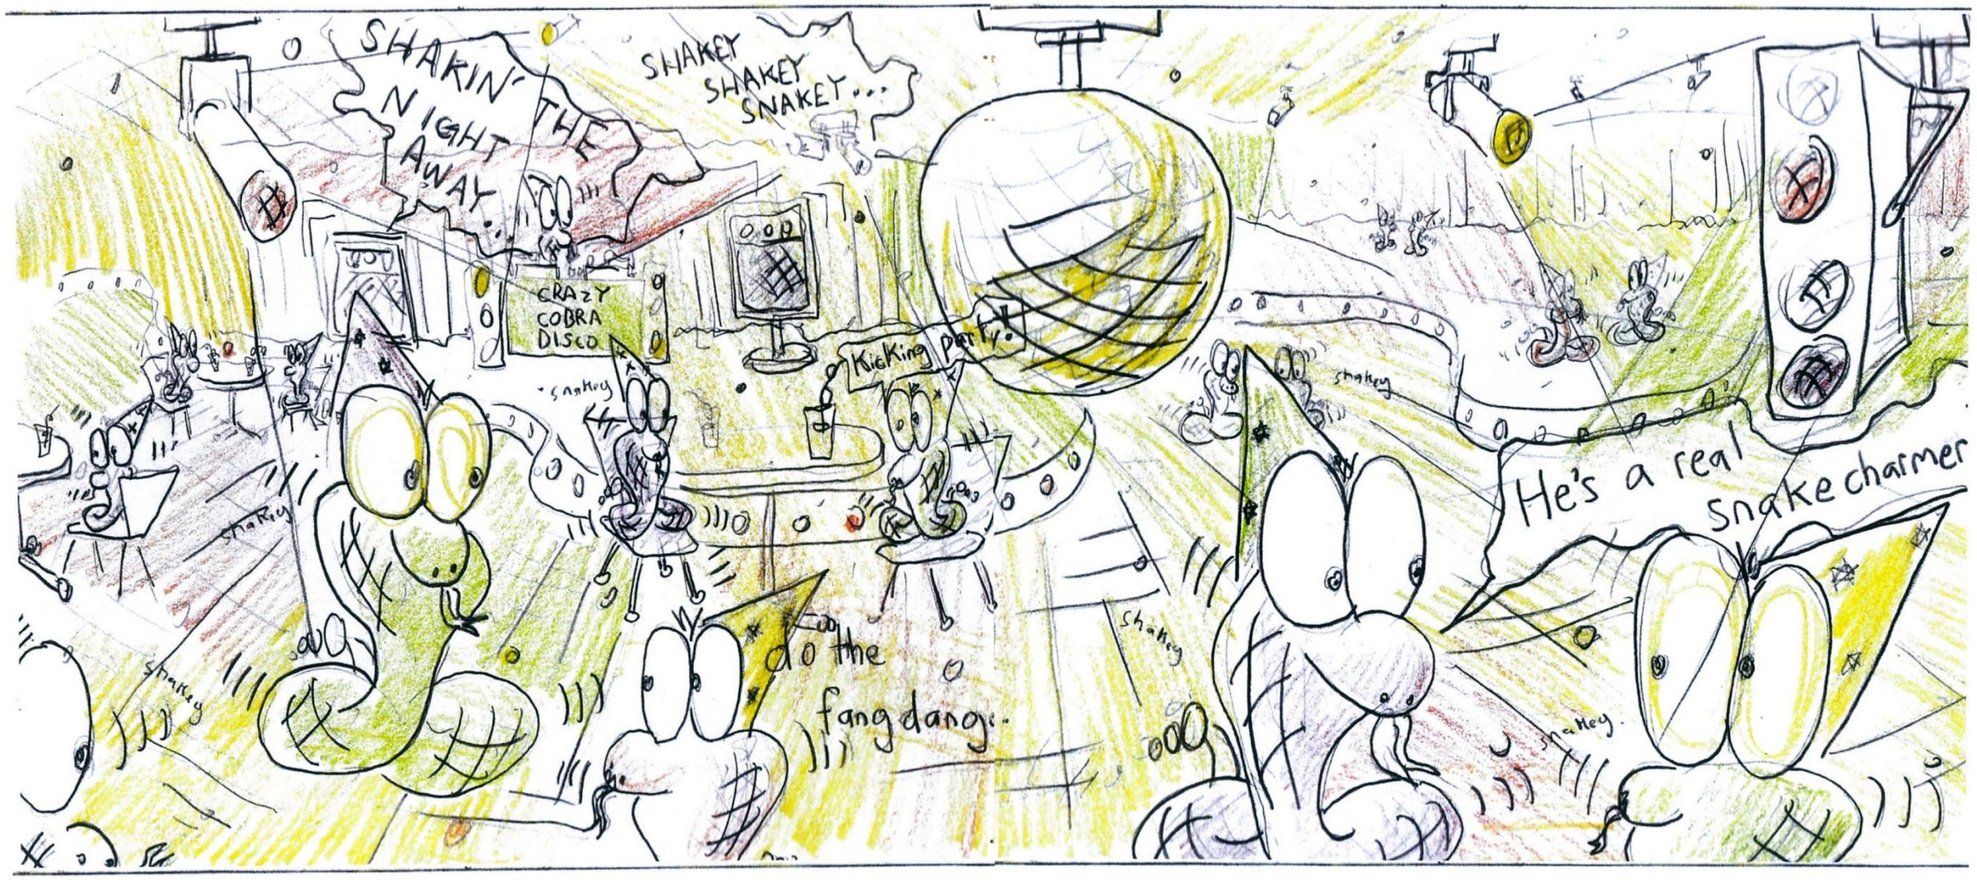
CRAZY COBRAS HELP LINE 1300 023
FEELING RATTLED?
1300 023
SERVICES



Hi! Are you a crazy cobra?
Yes.
Me too.
You want to hang out?
Ok.



Crazy cobra and his new friend went for a walk down the promenade.



then headed to the crazy cobra disco, where they danced the night away.

Crazy cobra then said goodbye to his new friend and headed home -

In a par world peculiarity transcends all.
Anaconda spares victim due to crush.
NO WAY
ONE WAY
Don't let your dentist put the bite on you.

past the houses,

through the woods,

and finally, home. Crazy cobra was very happy, because he'd had a great day out.

A picture book about mental illness and social acceptance.
by Upper Hunter Artist and Author
Andrew Davis

Published in Australia by Andrew Davis

ISBN: 978-0-9870928-4-7